This week Paket and Seth Vogt drop their remixes of Slapper on us and we are loving it. Paket went for a garage/2-step vibe with the drums while incorporating a whomp-y bass line and a heap of lasers to give his remix a real down-and-dirty feel. Seth Vogt went for a progressive vibe with pianos, ethereal synth pads, and a bit of a scat-like vocal to accompany the original. It's a real tripped out space journey. Both worthy of a spot in your rotation!
