More funky business from Hexadecimal as he drops his new jam Annihilate. Right out of the gate we are introduced to a kick drum/sub bass combo that Hex sets up to run throughout the track. At the drop, the mix stays clean with just the drums and a scorching synth. Midway through, Hex brings in a funky percussion line with a high end repeating bleeper and the result is nothing short of instant zest. Annihilate is itching to rock that dance floor.
