Broken Robot got off to a strong start in April, with both sides of their first release making the top 10 of Beatports breakbeat chart. Now theyre back with their second installment, and this one looks set to be even bigger!

BRR002 features VOLATILE: the debut single from Southamptons FIREFARM.

Fusing rocky guitars and a fat mid-tempo beat with impeccable production, this track hits the nail right on the head. The sound can best be described as a fusion of The Prodigy and Rage Against the Machine, with a healthy slice of Pendulum thrown in for good measure, and will appeal to everybody from dance-music heads to rockers and hip-hop fans alike.

On the flip, theres a storming remix for those who prefer their breaks a bit faster, from none other than Londons all-star breakbeat trio PYRAMID. The vocal and synth hooks of the original are set to a frenetic breakbeat and a monstrous juggernaut of a bassline. Theres no messing around here: this track is pure dancefloor destruction!

Both tracks will be available on 12 inch vinyl and as a digital download on Beatport from the 1st June 2009 Samples here:
