Domino's brand new 4 tracker EP is out now on Beatport

Here's a little bit about the EP:

Last year we brought you freshfaced producer Domino's debut release, Skinstripper, along with a funky mix from Groove Diggerz, he's been busy in the studio since and the fruit of his labours is now here, the Jukebox Hustler EP, a perfect mix between the funky and darker sides of Domino's production. The EP kicks off with Dirty Mind, a funky breaks workout with live brass and vocals, a demo of this track was what originally attracted Ground Level to sign him! Next up we have Pay Me, a collaboration with 21 Grams, on the darker side of breaks, with a rumbling dirty bassline and screeching leads! Circuit Child takes things down the electro-breaks tip, with funky as hell drum fills and a catchy hook! Domino gets his trumpet out and hooks up with 21 Grams once again for Your A Star, another trip down the funky side of breaks, perfectly bridging the gap between warmup and peaktime! All these tracks have been floortested to the max by the Ground Level team and work a treat! This EP shows that Domino is one to watch on the breaks scene!

Here's what everyone's saying about it:

"All these top stuff. Loving Pay me especially" - Greg Churchill (Underwater)

"4 Solid Tracks" - Hexadecimal

"Dirty Mind- sounds like Norman Cook swallowed the blue pill and mounted a hippo its that fat n funky!"
Audio Tsunami

"nice and varied stuff on this release" - Kickflip
