

[LDN] Teebs, Nosaj Thing & Eskmo @ XOYO - 12/07/12

Posted by abstrkt - 2012/05/28 07:19

On July 12th Soundcrash presents three first-class beatsmiths live and direct from the USA. After selling out the Village Underground earlier this year Brainfeeder's Teebs returns to London. Joining him as co-headliners at XOYO will be Low End Theory regular Nosaj Thing and Amon Tobin collaborator Eskmo.

Teebs returns to London bringing his innovative live show to the XOYO stage, after selling out Village Underground back in March. His set on July 12th will no doubt be one to remember. After signing to Flying Lotus's Brainfeeder label, Teebs released the critically acclaimed 'Collections 01' plus various collaborations with Daedelus and Prefuse 73 amongst others.

Add to this, a rare London show from Nosaj Thing – back with his unique blend of psychedelic hip hop. His finely tuned live set mesmerises crowds on every occasion and we are expecting big things for this show! After releasing an incredible body of work himself Nosaj has remixed Islands by the XX which was everyone's favourite last year, plus the amazing co-production with Kendrick Lamar.

Innovative as ever, Ninja Tune's Eskmo completes the triple headline line-up, serving up an ever evolving cross genre set featuring live electronics cut to his own live vocals. With a new LP on the way we are expecting some exclusives as well as classic material from his last records on Ninja Tune and Warp plus the amazing Eskamon LP produced with Amon Tobin.

Tickets: £9.50 early birds, £14.50 advance, more on the door
