Moda is back in London for the first time in 2010, with yet another logic defying line-up at Hoxton's pocket sized rave den, The Macbeth.

As one of the only parties in London delivering MASSIVE guest DJs in such an intimate venue, this is guaranteed to be yet another roadblock (the 2 have hit capacity within 2 hours!).

Headlining is one of the UK's most respected and sought after djs/producers/remixers of recent times. Over the last few years, he's remixed everyone from Hot Chip to the Gossip via Bonde Do Role, as well as having a series of devastatingly big releases. So without further ado, we are honored to welcome FAKE BLOOD to front this episode of Moda:London.

Heavy weight support comes from a man responsible for some of the biggest underground house tunes of 2009. One of his most recent releases 'London To Paris,' has been supported by everyone from everyone from Annie Mac, Joris Voorn, Brodinski and Crookers. It can only be - MOWGLI!

Hot on his heels is Moda's interstella new kid on the block! Find out why Annie Mac recently describing his forthcoming Moda Music EP as "next level" when Tom Staar touches down this February!

And of course Moda's very own Jaymo & Andy George will be starting the party from 9pm on BBC Radio 1, then heading straight to the club to continue the fun until they get thrown out for inappropriate behavior!

Get involved with LDN's freshest House party!
