Having spent several years concentrating on VJ'ing and working alongside many world class DJ's and Artists at events such as Breakspoll, The Synergy Project, Glade Festival and Bloom Festival, VJ Air finally decided last year that it was time to get back to his musical roots and to start mixing and producing himself. Although the music side is a Hobby compared to his work as a VJ, he has a huge passion for music and can be regularly found on several internet stations.

His musical taste covers a broad spectrum of sound, but his main approach is towards the tougher, darker end of breaks. The show will feature guests of varying styles accross the coming months. He will be giving both well established names and those who are unknown will be the chance to be heard on Nubreaks. New talent is something he sees as important, after all the scene cannot progress without new people to make it evolve and move onwards, so if you feel youd like an opportunity to be on air, then feel free to get in contact.

More information about him can be found at www.myspace.com/vjair
