BIOGRAPHY

Left/Right (Chris Lund and Justin Russell) have had a passion for sharing and listening to electronic music since their youth. The two met in 2000 and quickly started their first residency, "Metamorphosis," playing a unique blend of edgy dance music in the heart of Deep Ellum. They immediately began throwing larger events and became actively involved in djing and promoting with Dallas's finest production team: Full Access. Before long, L&R was being booked regularly throughout the metroplex and out of state: for large electronic music festivals, on the air, and for their mesmerizing video sets.

With degrees both in music composition and audio engineering, the duo began consistently producing breaks in early 2007 and soon saw their first release in the beginning of 2008. After charting as a breaks best seller, Left/Right's music was finally being heard all over the world. With the unique ability to integrate their own original production and personal style, L/R's dj sets are always packed with adrenaline, rocking, and precise.

Left/Right has just released a new remix of Retroid's "Everyday Hero" and is currently finishing two remixes, a new original breaks tune, and several new dj mixes for the air and download. They are constantly involved in various musical collaborations and collecting new tunes. Chris and Justin love electronic music... and want to share their music with you.
