As much as I hate to miss the show, I have a good reason to miss this week. I am currently on my honeymoon. I will not be able to make my show this week but will be back next Monday (16th) and will rock it like crazy.

Hope you all have a great week and I will be around more starting Wednesday. Will try to make up the show later during a reruns. Catch you all later.

Not a problem. Wanted to make sure there was plenty of heads up for while I was gone. I might try to make it up tomorrow at some point if there are reruns on. It is going to be a very short day at work and I have the itch to spin. I would try tonight but I don't know if the itch will outweigh the urge to sleep....

This Monday though I will be back up and running and hopefully surprise you guys with a cool video show as well.
